Dear Henry:

STAT

I was interested in the ideas in your letter of March 12, 1959, which [redacted] passed on to me. As you may have seen from the press, some consideration is being given to action somewhat along the lines suggested.

I agree that it is important that the other side should keep well in mind that we have strings to our bow. Certainly they are less likely to press the issue if they have reason to believe that there might be methods of counteraction short of all-out hostilities.

Sincerely,

[Signature]
